<sup>1</sup> In light of GA 1957 constituting an independent MS even though it is replacement leaves after Heb 9.13 in Codex Vaticanus, one might conclude that the replacement leaves in this MS constitute a different MS. Yet even though this overlaps with the original text (1ab especially), it is not considered separately. GA 1957 should also probably not constitute a separate MS, in light of the replacement leaves in Codex W.

<sup>2</sup> Two of the original leaves from Matthew are used as buffer leaves between covers and rest of the MS. They are from Matt 9–10, with the later text put in the front and the earlier text put in the back.
